8. Click on Create Account
9. You will be on the Products page click on Download

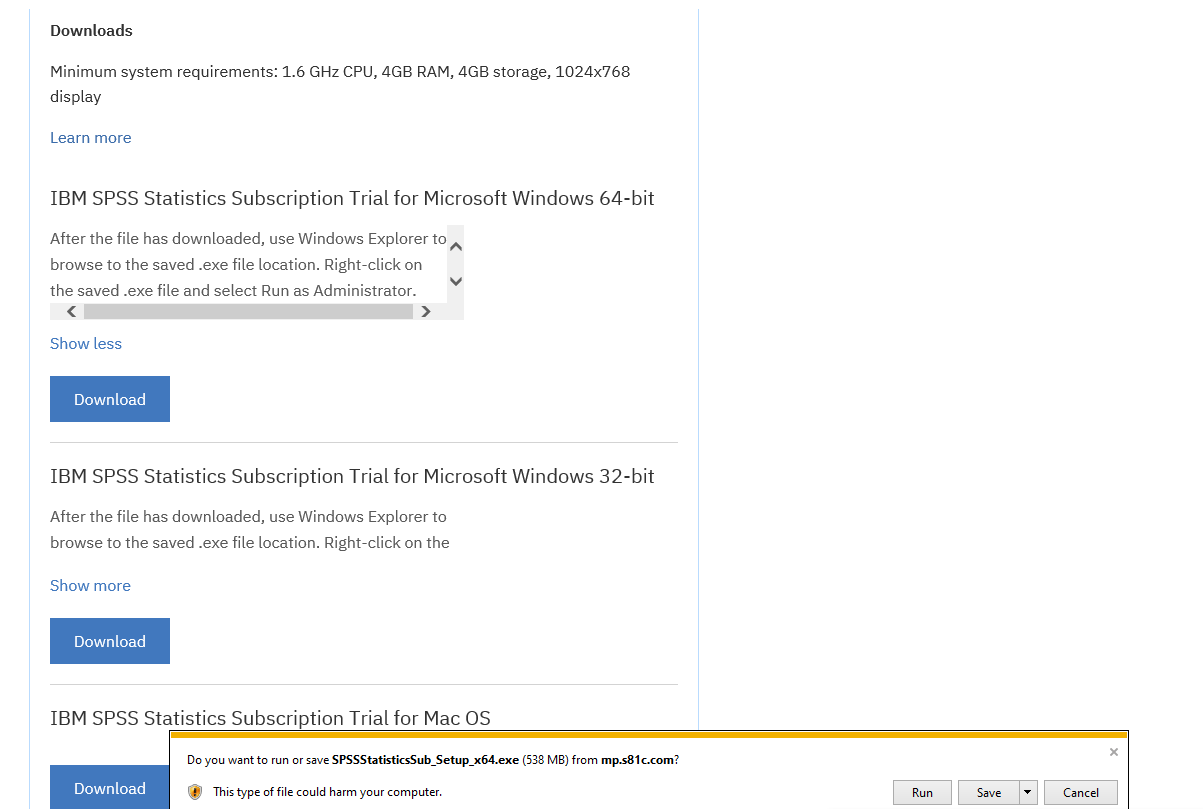

10. You will now have 3 options to choose from:
 - a. IBM SPSS Statistics Subscription trial for Microsoft Windows 64 bit
 - b. IBM SPSS Statistics Subscription trial for Microsoft Windows 32-bit, or
 - c. IBM SPSS Statistics Subscription trial for MAC OS

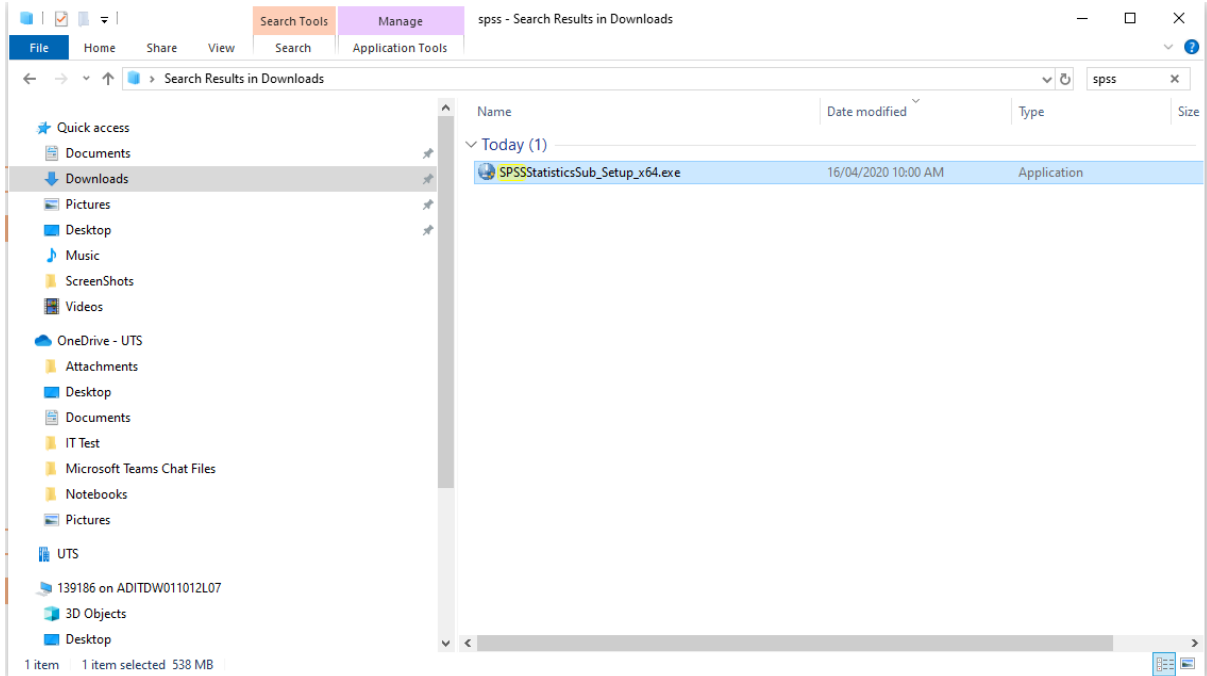

11. To check whether you are using a 32-bit or 64-bit Windows system you will need to do the following:
- In the taskbar next to the Start button (windows icon) type in about your pc in the search field then press enter
 - A new window will appear and where it displays System type will display 32 or 64-bit operating system

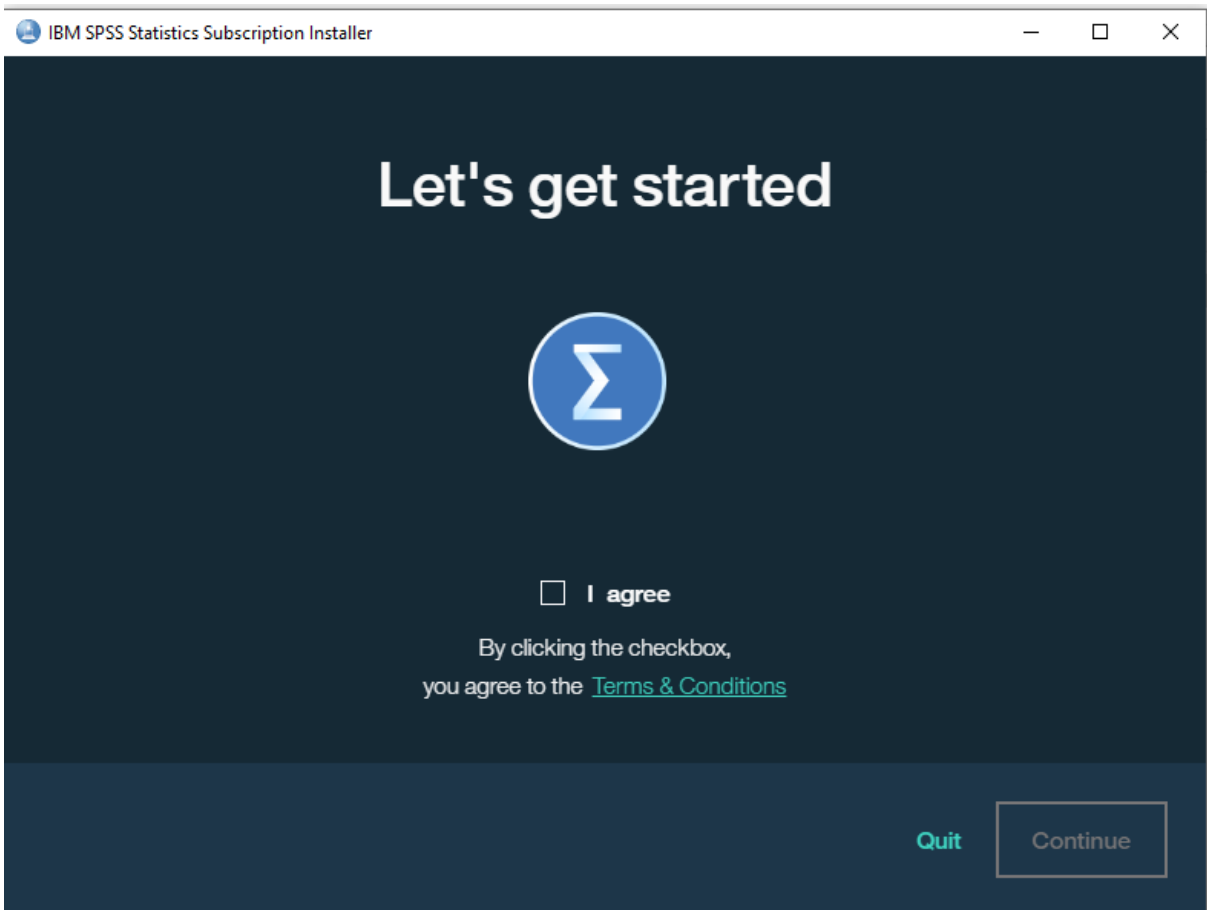

12. Once you determine what version of Windows you are using you will need to click on download for the appropriate version and then click on Save.

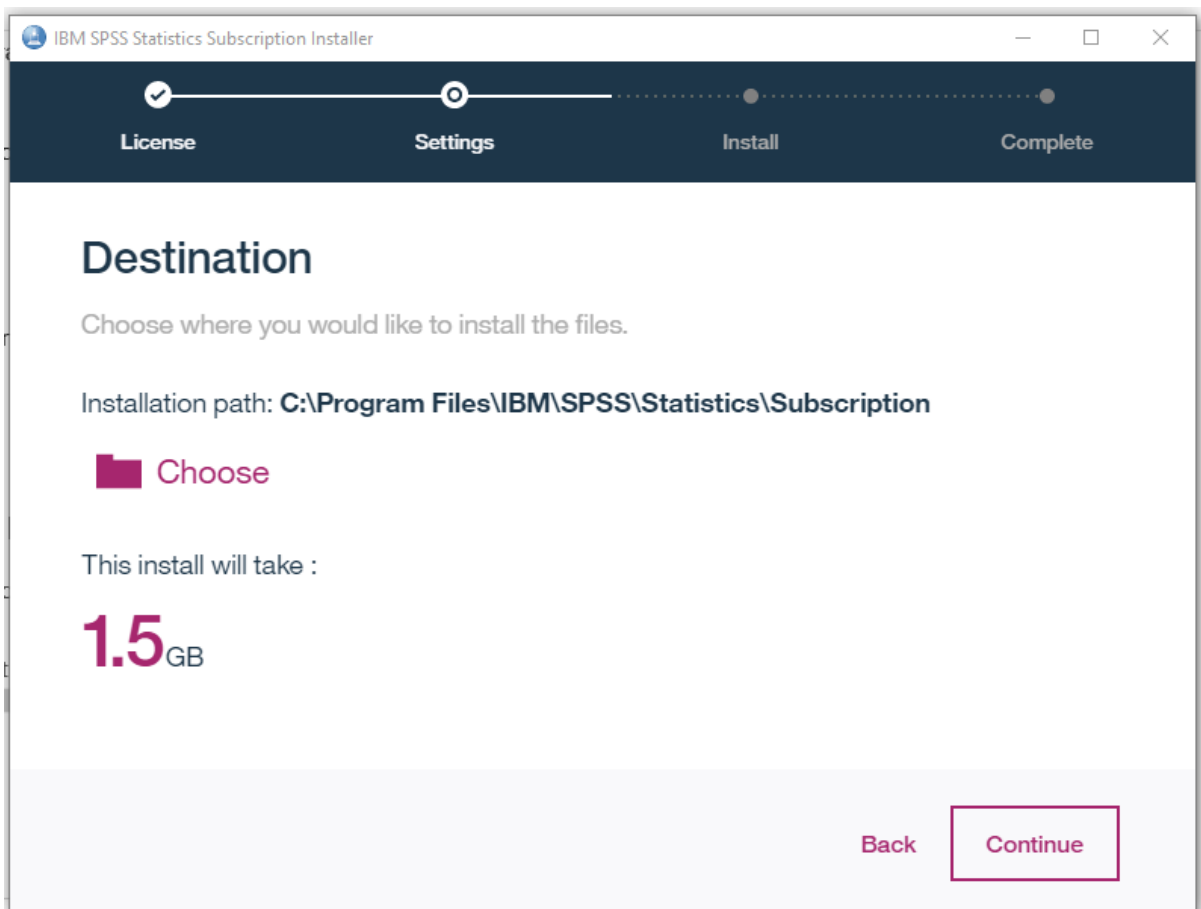

13. Once Downloaded you will need to navigate to where the .exe file is located, right click on the .exe file and select "Run as Administrator"
 - a. If you are not able to see the setup window after you run the setup you will need to minimise all the applications you have open

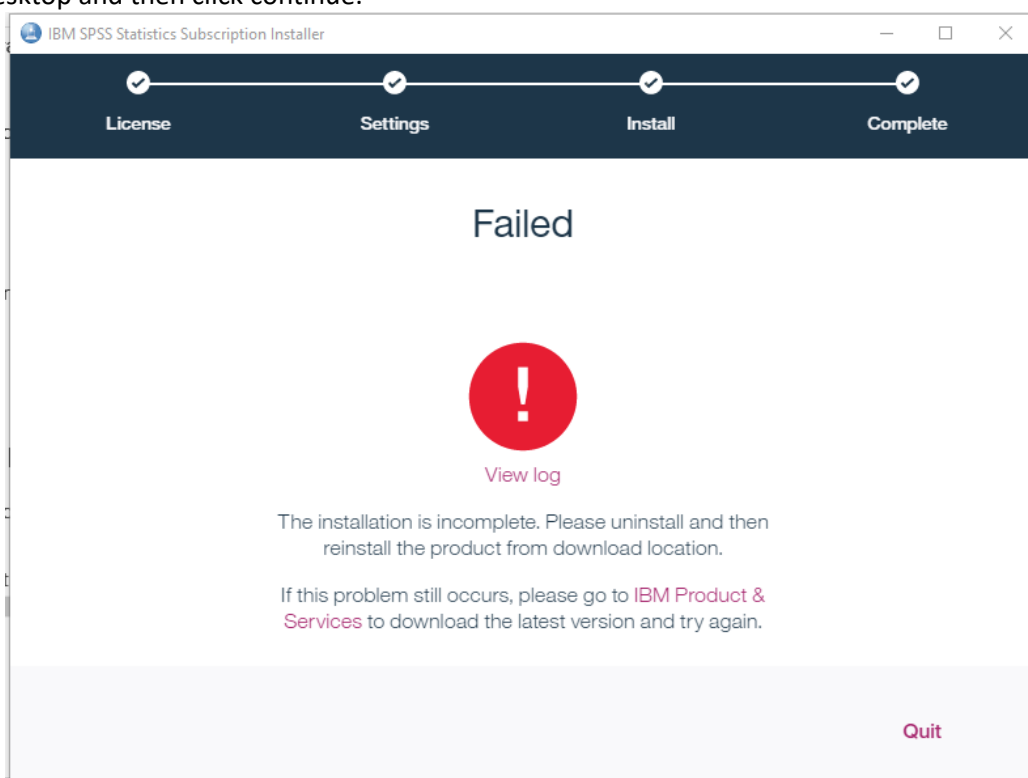

14. In the setup window click on the check box for "I agree" and then click on Continue

15. Click on Continue again to continue the installation

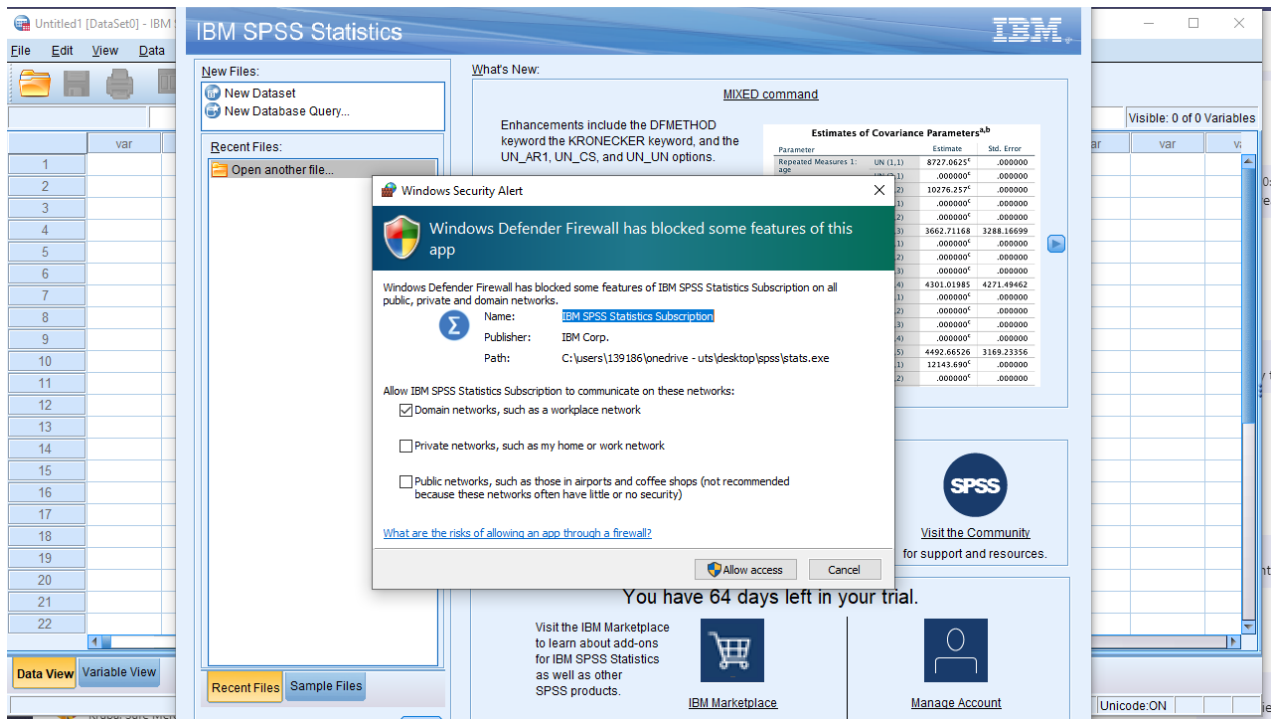

NOTE: If you receive an error message on the first attempt installing SPSS, close all SPSS windows and go back to the .exe file you downloaded and rerun the setup as an administrator. When you get to the Destination page in the setup click on Choose to change the installation path to a location on your desktop and then click continue.

If SPSS is not opening and is stuck on the loading screen, close the application and then go to the start menu and open SPSS from the programs list.

16. Once SPSS opens a Windows Security Alert window appears click on Allow Access
